RFP: Request for Planners

How agencies can effectively procure & use consulting planning services

CTPC
March 17, 2018

MACP
Massachusetts Association of Consulting Planners
Introduction

- Massachusetts Association of Consulting Planners (MACP)

- Panelists
  - Ralph Willmer, FAICP, MAPC: Moderator
  - Leonardi Aray, AIA, Principal, Leonardi Aray Architects
    President, MACP
  - Daphne Politis, AICP, Principal, Community Circle
  - Sarah Raposa, AICP, Town Planner, Medfield, MA

- Acknowledgments

- Upcoming MACP Procurement Handbook
Today’s objectives

- To define the role of private consulting planners
- To understand the procurement process from the public sector planner’s point of view
- To understand how to improve the procurement process so that it is mutually beneficial to both public and private sector planners.

A fair and open procurement process is in everyone’s interest.
Procurement Thresholds

- Below $10,000 – Can be awarded using “sound business practice” so your local jurisdiction receives the needed quality of supplies or services at a reasonable price.

- Between $10,000 & $49,999 (lowest bidder) – Must seek written quotes from at least three vendors. Ensure that you adequately describe what you need.

- $50,000 and over – Sealed Invitation for Bids (IFB) or Request for Proposals (RFP). Award to the responsive and responsible bidder offering the best price – the best value.
Year 2018: Before MACP’s Handbook

- Copycat RFPs
- Inconsistencies with Ch. 30B, i.e. RFP vs RFQuotes
- Inconsistent and unrealistic scope and timeline
- Private consulting planners confused and frustrated
- Unnecessary insurance requirements
- Lack of resources to prepare an effective RFP
Notes from a Small-Town Municipal Planner

- Been a municipal planner for 10 years in 3 small-ish, rural/suburban communities
  - 2008 in Eastham (pop. ~5,000)
  - 2010 in Westport (pop. ~15,000)
  - 2012 in Medfield (pop. ~12,000)
- Sole planner
- Limited funding available for special projects
First RFP: Housing Production Plan
The agony of procuring services

- Knowledge base
  - Resources
  - Templates
- Who does the Work?
  - In-house work
  - RPA
  - Consultant
- Developing Budget
- Time commitment
- Communication
  - Interview & Evaluations
  - Contracts, Invoicing & Payments 10 years in…

- Sources of confusion
  - Pairing scopes with funding
  - Tell or not to tell (amount)
- Issues I’ve experienced
  - Working with a committee to draft RFP
  - Burn rate vs. project based fee
- Reflect on what your purpose is
  - How will this further your mission and fulfill goals
Why Outsource Consulting Planning Services?

- You lack the necessary expertise in-house
- You don’t have time and/or need to complete by a specific date
- You could use some help to Build Consensus
- You need the objectivity or credibility a consultant can lend to the process and/or the result
- You need help to navigate and diffuse political controversy
- You could use some examples from other communities
Why Outsource Consulting Planning Services?

- A consultant or a team of consultants can provide a wide range of services, including:
  - land use
  - transportation
  - economic development
  - urban design
  - housing
  - natural and historic resources
  - even architecture and engineering
Should you hire a Private Consultant or a RPA?

ADVANTAGES of a RPA
• Typically lower cost
• Intergovernmental agreements in place
• Often knowledgeable about town or city

ADVANTAGES of a Private Consultant
• Broader base of experience
• Team tailored to needs of project
• Often provide new perspectives
How to write an effective RFP

- TIP #1: Plan for the RFP. It Takes Time
- TIP #2: Evaluate current resources how much can be done in-house.
- TIP #3: Get input from relevant Town staff, and RPA; consider hiring a consulting planner to outline a tentative scope and craft the RFP
- TIP #4: Collect readily available data & identify additional data needs
TIP #5: Determine value of consultants with cultural sensitivity

- Methods for reaching “hard to reach” populations
- Bi-lingual materials
- Understanding of cultural differences
- MBE/DBE is not equivalent to cultural competence
How to write an effective RFP

- TIP #6: Evaluate degree of stakeholder engagement
- TIP #7: Identify areas of expertise needed
- TIP #8: Define the timeline
- TIP #9: Carry a budget contingency
- TIP #10: Make it easy to read!
What are some red flags to prospective bidders?

- A scope that is vague or incompatible
- An unrealistic budget
- Inappropriate or unrealistic evaluation criteria
- Unrealistic proposal deadlines
- Conflicting requests
- Unnecessary requirements
- Concerns with fairness

When the RFP does not state clear purpose & requirements, it’s hard to feel confident about responding.
Unrealistic expectations: Budget, Scope, Schedule (the BSs!!)

Expectations should be based on needed:
• Meetings
• Outreach to “hard to reach populations”
• Data collection and research
• Requirement for graphics, maps, visualization tools and color reports
• Building consensus
• Implementation Plan
Unrealistic expectations: Budget, Scope, Schedule (the BSs!!)

Result in:
- No proposal submitted
- Proposal from inexperienced consultants
- Proposals from experienced consultants who intend on:
  - Asking for additional funding or contract extension later
  - Reusing boilerplate reports
  - Using as much of agency time as possible
Consultants don’t like it when...

- proposals are posted on websites (some consultants)
- unsuccessful bidders are not notified
- the evaluation process goes beyond the terms on the RFP
- there is no opportunity for feedback on the proposal

Consultants want to feel that their time and thoughtful response has been respected, even if they are not selected.
Write an effective RFP and you will hire a firm best suited to assist you with your planning efforts

A firm or team of firms that:

• has the skills and experience with the kind of work you would like done
• works closely with clients to customize their approach
• demonstrates a high level of interest in your project
• Has good reviews from their references
Year 2035
MACP’s Handbook, 3rd Edition

- Adequate funding for planning is committed annually.
- Private-Public Sector Planners effective collaboration
- Copy & Paste tool banned
- Municipal Planning Initiatives reflect and serve diverse demographics
Questions?
Comments?

Your stories
Your experiences
What would you like to see in the Procurement Handbook?

Preliminary Outline
• Why Use A Private Consultant
• Overview of the Procurement Process
• Frequently Asked Questions
• Sample RFP Outline
• Tips for Writing Good RFPs
• How to Get the Most Out of Your Planning Consultant

We Want the Handbook to be useful.
WHAT ELSE SHOULD WE INCLUDE?
Mass Association of Consulting Planners
Planners Directory
www.MACPonline.org